Coaching With Psychometrics

Using appropriate psychometric instruments is a powerful way of enhancing your appreciation of how you see yourself and your preferred beliefs and behaviours. In turn you gain a better understanding of how these can influence your interactions and relationships with others. Applied within a coaching context they provide you with information that you can use in a practical way – enabling you to realise your potential more effectively.

- One 3-hour psychometric coaching session with a senior member of the management team*.
- During this session the coachee receives a full feedback and two-way discussion based on a reputed personality instrument followed by coaching on how to use this feedback to assist the coachee's understanding of their work related issue and to work out a strategy for enhanced insight and proposed actions to resolve their issue.
- The coachee would be contacted by phone to arrange a mutually convenient session date. They would be sent the personality instrument for completion and return to us prior to the session date.

NOTE: This option includes a minimal charge for the cost of the psychometric materials.
